

ADAM NORWEST

COMEDIAN-IMPROVIST

Adam Norwest, born with the ability to make people laugh, was a professional Improv performer at the age of 13. A few years later he stepped into stand-up. In a short time later he was featured on “Comcast on Demand”, was the youngest comedian ever to compete in the prestigious Seattle International Comedy Competition. Adam recently made his national debut on cable TV’s “Man Up, Stand Up”.

With his energy and on-stage confidence, Adam makes his stories about dating, family, and youthful looks relatable and engaging, as he cleverly mixes crowd interaction and material together, for a great and funny time.

Adam currently resides in Los Angeles, CA, and can be seen performing in clubs and headlining colleges across the country.

