

PETE HALL

COMEDIAN

Pete is a native of South Florida. At the ripe age of 40 he decided his story needed to be told so he returned his mail-order bride and moved to Portland (the only people who would listen) where he honed his stand-up skills at local pubs. He's been accused of being a cerebral comic with an innate understanding of why things happen. He is currently residing in Los Angeles with high hopes of never having to be homeless.

"Then came Pistol Pete Hall, who had the fireball tempo and beer spraying wit of Saturday Night Live of long ago"
